February 11th - General Meeting – 7:00 PM

Birding and Unrivaled Game Watching

Bryant and Diane Hichwa will take us on a photo safari of Southern Africa. Join this couple in visiting spectacular areas of Namibia and Botswana and discover amazing scenery and wildlife.

They will explore the bush areas of northern South Africa, the vast, pristine highlands and ochre-colored dunes of Namibia, the lagoons of the Skeleton Coast, the backwaters of the Okavanga Delta, the savanna in Chobe National Park on the Zambezi River and more. Each region contains a fascinating variety of wildlife. In Makulu Makete, a private reserve known for “rewilding” cheetahs and for hundreds of baobab trees, they photographed painted wolves, an elusive and endangered species that is making a comeback. The varied habitat supports a rich variety of birds - Blue Crane, Monteiro’s Hornbill, both the Malachite and Great Kingfisher, Yellow-billed Stork, and Pearl-spotted Owlets to name just a few. The safari combines views of beautiful scenery with waterholes and rivers that draw in mammals such as Roan and Sable antelope, Kudu, cheetah, and black rhino for which these regions are famous. The final stop is in Livingston, Zambia, where they marvel at one of the Seven Wonders of the Natural World, the spectacular Victoria Falls.

How about dinner before the meetings? Meet at 5:30 p. m. at Star

Field Trip Report by Ken Wilson

On Saturday, January 9th, twenty members and friends of RR0S participated in a field trip to Staten Island in San Joaquin County followed by lunch and further birding at Consumnes River Preserve and Visitor Center in Sacramento County. At two o'clock the group drove to Robinson and Flannery Roads in Solano County to finish out the day's birding. Our total group count for the day was eighty-two species, some of which were 'lifers' for participants and 'county birds' for others.

Sightings of note were the high numbers of Tundra Swan and the many groups of Sandhill Crane. One group of cranes allowed a size comparison between the Greater and Lesser subspecies. A group of geese on Staten Island contained both Canada and Cackling Geese, the latter including several 'Aleutians'. Enroute to the Consumnes River Preserve a large group of Yellow-billed Magpies flew low over our cars. Ducks and shorebirds were a prominent feature of the wetlands at Consumnes with many flocks of White-fronted Geese, Sandhill Cranes and Tundra Swans passing over.

In the 'grasslands' we enjoyed a flock of Horned Larks, many Western Meadowlarks, a large flock of Lark Sparrows, several Loggerhead Shrikes and a perched Golden Eagle. Migrant raptor species were low in number, however we were able to locate a Ferruginous Hawk at the end of the day. Towards the end of the day many hearts were won over by a very well displayed Burrowing Owl.

Observations: Pied-billed Grebe, Double-crested Cormorant, Great Blue Heron, Great Egret, Snowy Egret, Black-crowned Night Heron, Tundra Swan, Greater White-fronted Goose, Canada Goose, Cackling Goose, American Wigeon, Gadwall, Green-winged Teal, Mallard, Northern Pintail, Cinnamon Teal, Northern Shoveler, Canvasback, Ring-necked Duck, Common Goldeneye, Bufflehead, Ruddy Duck, Turkey Vulture, White-tailed Kite, Northern Harrier, Red-shouldered Hawk, Red-tailed Hawk, Ferruginous Hawk, Golden Eagle, American Kestrel, California Quail, Ring-necked Pheasant, Sandhill Crane, American Coot, Black-necked Stilt, Killdeer, Wilson's Snipe, Long-billed Dowitcher, Greater Yellowlegs, Least Sandpiper, Dunlin, American Herring Gull, Rock Pigeon, Eurasian Collared-Dove, Burrowing Owl, Anna's Hummingbird, Nuttall's Woodpecker, Downy Woodpecker, Northern Flicker, Black Phoebe, Say's Phoebe, Tree Swallow, Violet-green Swallow, American Pipit, Golden-crowned Kinglet, Ruby-crowned Kinglet, Marsh Wren, Northern Mockingbird, Bushtit, White-breasted Nuthatch, Loggerhead Shrike, Western Scrub-Jay, Yellow-billed Magpie, American Crow, Common Raven, European Starling, House Sparrow, House Finch, Yellow-rumped Warbler, Common Yellowthroat, Spotted Towhee, California Towhee, Lark Sparrow, Savannah Sparrow, Song Sparrow, Lincoln's Sparrow, White-crowned Sparrow, Dark-eyed Junco, Red-winged Blackbird, Western Meadowlark, Brewer's Blackbird, Brown-headed Cowbird.
